In spite of the increasing efficiency in Virginia schools, the pay of teachers is nothing to brag about. The average paid for 1926 was $662. Yet the 120 tresurers of the State were paid in fees, $305,931.27, just for handling the school funds. This was an average, $2,500. While some work was necessary in handling the school funds, a large part was purely routine. —Times-Dispatch

Here's a chance for some reform work, but it has been said few office-holders resign and none ever die, and it would be entirely unethical to reduce the fees of any of the boys who stand together in politics. If the teachers ever get an increase it will be when the tax tickets show a boost. Appomattox taxpayers, we judge, favor an increase of taxes They at least recently expressed themselves as being opposed to a reduction in taxes.

School Trucks

At the August 10th meeting of the School Board composed of E. LeRoy Smith, Chairman, J. O. Davidson and T. J. Ligon contracts for hauling school children were awarded to the following persons:

J. W. Carter, to Liberty Chapel at $50.

John Lewis, Marshall's Bridge to Pamplin at $55.

M. H. Marks, Mt. Comfort to Oakville at $55.

C. B. Ferguson, from 4 miles E. of here to Appomattox $55.

C E Carson to Appomattox $55.

Thornton R Carter to Vera $55.

E P Jennings to Stonewall $55.

C R Woodson to Appo. $55.

H. E. Smith, Rocky Farm to Appomattox $55.

W. H. Smith, Evergreen to Appomattox $55.

R. W. Morris to Appo $55

S. E. Turnes, Thomas Mill to Appomattox $55.

J. L. Lewis, Bush Forest to Appomattox, $55.

M. H. Beale, Piney Ridge to Pamplin $55

Mrs. J. W. Beale from Tower Hill to Liberty Chapel $40.

Johnie Carter to Vera $55.

O. F. Cheatham, Ready Spring via Spout Spring to Appo. $75.

D. T. LeFew to Oakville $55.

Ben Ferguson to Vera $44.

T. U. Connor, Pinkards to Appomattox $50.

Rufus Burnett, Hebron to Appomattox $95.

F. A O'Brien, Vera to Appomattox $55.

The high school department at Stonewall has been discontinued and it is said about thirty pupils of that community will be brought to the Appomattox school.

The Hardy primary school has been discontinued and pupils will be transported by truck from Forbes's Store to Prospect High School, both tuition and transportation being paid for by Appomattox. Any high school student may also have his tuition paid at Prospect, but transportation will be at such student's own proper cost. Mr. Brisentine drives this truck at $25 per month.

All trucks are to start on Sept. 15th.

Teachers will meet here on 14th for their annual institute which is the first school day of the term

The Board heretofore let the contracts for trucks in July but in this election year deferred the matter until after election.

No advertisement for bids for this expenditure of the public funds was ever made and in view of the straightened financial condition of the school funds it appears to the tax-payers that the $11,106.00 might have been awarded on competitive bids. All disbursement of public funds should be safe-guarded by publicity and not disbursed until the public shall have the chance of participation in the awarding and disbursement of its own funds.

Well! Another holiday has passed since our last writing, all seemed to enjoy it with many visitors around in the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Covington, of Lynchburg, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coleman.

Mr. R. F. Spradlin, of Lynchburg, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spradlin and little son, Harry, Jr., of Washington, D. C. were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Megginson last week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Freese, and children, and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Huddle, of Roanoke, spent the week-end and the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Anderson.

Misses Isabell O'Brien, Phoebe O'Brien, Margaret Lythgoe, Dora Abbitt and Messrs. John Ganter, Alfred Nuttycomb, Ernest Mann, and Evrod Conner visited the "Peaks of Otter" to see the sun rise.

Mrs. Menefee is nursing Mrs. George R. Abbitt, who is ill with Typhoid fever.

His many friends, in this section will regret to learn that Mr. Jefferson Kinney, who is now living in Philadelphia, was "beaten up" by a thug, bent on robbery of a garage where Mr. Kinney was night manager. A Philadelphia paper of Aug. 31st gives the account thus:—attacked by a man believed bent on stealing an automobile, Jefferson B Kinney, night manager of the Marlow Motor Service Garage fought off his assailant at 3 a. m. today after he had been beaten with a blackjack. Kinney was dosing in a closed automobile parked in the garage when he was awakened by a blow on the head, delivered with a blackjack. His assailant had crept into the garage, opened the door of the car quietly and struck Kinney before the manager had an opportunity to defend himself. Kinney dazed by the blow, grappled with the intruder and was beaten to his knees before he managed to get out of the automobile and strike back at the man. The noise of the scuffle and Kinney's cries for help attracted A. Lovenstern owner of the gage who lives in the rear of the building. As Lovenstern opened the rear door the intruder made a last vicious swing with the blackjack tearing open Kinney's scalp. Lovenstern picked up a tire iron and run toward the man, but the latter fled through the front door and disappeared. The garage proprietor placed Kinney in an automobile and drove him to Samaritan Hospital. Doctors said the manager had been badly beaten and that his head was a mass of cuts and bruises. Police were notified and an investigation was made. Detectives said the intruder had evidently waited in the vicinity of the garage until Kinney was alone and had then entered the building to steal one of the machines kept there. Kicney was unable to give a good description of his assailant, saying the first blow which awakened him had caused blood to stream into his eyes, blurring his vision.

There will be a lawn party in Mrs. L. C. Hatcher's yard the third Saturday, Sept. 17, 1927, benefit Mrs. John W. Beale. Everybody come and help a good cause, beginning at 5 o'clock.

The W. M. U. of New Hope Church will have their regular monthly meeting Saturday the 10th. All members try to be present.

HIXBURG

Most of the tobacco in this section has been cut. Some proves to be very good while some, on account of firing was cut rather green.

September brings us warmer days than we had in August.

Gardens have about given out at many homes. The beetle bug has returned with renewed vigor to destroy what is left.

Miss Carrie Hix, who for the past week visited home folks here, left Thursday for Bluefield W. Va., where she will visit friends, thence back to her school work in Richmond.

Mrs. Mattie R. Harwood is also visiting in Bluefield at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Beulah and Paul Anderson were recent visitors in the home of Mr. Roberts.

Mr. Jack Singleton, Miss Bessie Singleton and others, of Darlington Heights; Mr. Arthur Pugh and family, of Madisonville were visitors in the home of J. H. Marshall Sunday. Other visitors in the same home afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Marshall, and H. M., Jr., Miss Carrie Hix, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wheeler and Benjaman Blanton

Several car loads of our young folk visited the surrender grounds at Appomattox Sunday P. M. This memorable spot surely merits being a public park it seems to us.

We are sorry to note that Curtis Coleman leaves soon to accept a position in W. Va. Our young people and even whole families continue to leave the country. Too little recompense for such hard labor.

Mr. W. P. Coleman and family expect to move out in the near future. We hate to loose these good folk from our community.

Madam Rumor spreads the news that one of our young farmers will soon bring home a bride Good luck Ed!

Mrs. Tom Glenn, of Roanoke, is keeping house for Mr. Luther Glenn while Mrs. Luther Glenn visits her children in Roanoke.

Master Otis Gilliam has been visiting his grandfather, Mrs. L. R. Glenn recently.

The young people's social Friday night proved quite a success, all present seemed to have a good time.

Sunday School was very poorly attended Sunday. Come folks, we have none too many at best, let's all pull together and have better attendance! We shall, with interest, watch for reports of the success of the "religious canvass" put on by the Appomattox Churches.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Cheadle, and family, of Richmonh, spent the holiday with her sister, Mrs. W. B Hubbard.

We regret to learn of Mrs. Duling's illness. Hope that she may soon be at home again restored in health.

BARON CHALLENGED BY PARIS JEWELER

Rothschild, However, Laughed at Idea of Duel.

Paris.—A high society drama which is to Louis Cartier, the Rue de la Paix jeweler, challenging Baron Maurice de Rothschild, a racing man and member of the chamber of deputies, to fight a duel with him has caused a tremendous sensation in Paris.

In making up a list of guests for a dance that he was giving in his magnificent home in the Rue Moncean recently, Baron Maurice, who is a great-great-grandson of the founder of the famous financial dynasty, wrote down the name of Mme. Louis Cartier, who is one of the great Parisian beauties, but intentionally left out that of her husband. His social secretary made an error and sent the invitation to "Monsieur and Madame Louis Cartier," who were ignorant of the baron's real wishes.

"What are you doing here?" Baron Maurice asked M. Cartier as soon as he saw him.

"I am here because you invited me," M. Cartier replied sharply.

"There is a mistake," the baron insisted, while a number of guests stood listening to this conversation in amazement.

"Our invitation was addressed to 'Monsieur and Madame Cartier,'" M. Cartier replied angrily.

"Anyway, I don't want you here," the baron remarked and walked away, followed with anger, M. Cartier called his wife, who was dancing at the time, and they walked out of the house, which threw a certain chill over the party. The first thing next morning, M. Cartier sent the invitation marked "Monsier and Madame" to Baron de Rothschild and at the same time he sent his card and two seconds, who explained that their friend wished to avenge his honor with swords, pistols or any other weapon the baron preferred, and asked him to name his seconds.

Baron de Rothschild laughed at the idea of a duel and the affair still hangs in suspense with all the upper crust of Parisian society anxiously waiting to see what will happen. He has not left Paris to take a month's cure at Marienbad, however, and the jeweler can do nothing except gnash his teeth until his opponent returns.

"No Learn Step on Gas," Say Old Indian Braves

Glacier Park, Mont.—The automobile will not entirely replace ponies among the Indians until the present older generation of braves has entirely passed away, according to the observation of Chief Two Guns White Calf of the Glacier National park reservation. He says that while the younger Indians take speedily to flivvers, their elders have never could learn automatic use of the pressure on the gas feed, brake and clutch, since they had been too long in the reverse habit of "digging" their heels into the cayuse's ribs.

Boston Housewife Walks About Eight Miles Daily

Boston.—The average housewife walks eight miles a day in doing her day's work, according to the survey made here by the National Foundation for Foot Health.

The foundation survey showed that the number of trips the woman housekeeper makes up and down stairs during a day would more than equal climbing to the top of the Boston custom-house tower—approximately thirty stories.

California Astronomer Measures the Universe

Berkeley, Calif.—The sidereal universe, that vast expanse beyond the earth which provides an ethereal setting for a billion stars, is estimated to have a diameter of 164 quadrillion miles by Allan Douglas Maxwell, a James M. Gosway fellow in astronomy.

This computation is the result of preliminary studies concluded at the University of California Lick observatory on Mount Hamilton.

Maxwell's conclusions were reached in a study of the destiny of stars toward the edge of the sidereal galaxy in which the solar system is found. His computation was offered as a working supposition, which may be altered by further observations.

Peering into the heavens, he made his observations by means of the spectroscope in six areas in the Cygnus region of the milky way. The problem confronting Maxwell was to compute the distances of the faint-er stars and to discover how far into space the cloudlike mass extended.

Maxwell is believed to have reached a greater distance from the earth than has previously been reached in the section of the sky he studied, with single stars as an objective. He successfully photographed the spectra of stars approximately 90,000,000,000,000 miles away, but that distance few stars were observable, and Maxwell believes the sidereal universe probably ends far far beyond.

Pretty English Girls Coming

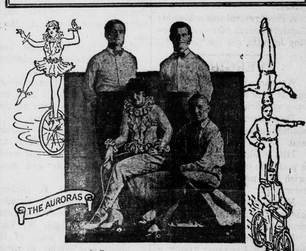
FOUR young and pretty English lassies recently invaded America and in a brief stay have captured first honors in the world of public entertainers.

The Clovelly sisters are jugglers of tennis racquets and Indian clubs. They created such a sensation in London theatres through their astonishing speed, skill and gracefulness that a theatrical magnet persuaded them to come to America for a tour of the large expositions. The Virginia State Fair was fortunate enough to secure their engagement.

Other foreign lands will be represented also at the State Fair this year. Japan sends the famous Kikutas Troupe, a company of marvelous foot-jugglers and acrobats consisting of seven men and two pretty Jap maidens, while from Russia come the Mangeans, a troupe of five man and two girls, who perform remarkable feats of hurling each other into the air by means of the teeter board, balancing and tumbling.

No less than ten hippodrome acts have been engaged for the State Fair, which opens at Richmond Monday, October 3rd, and continues the entire week. Railroads and bus lines will offer the usual reduced round-trip rates for the week.

Try This On Your 'Bike'



IMAGINE two men, head to head, with hands free, climbing up one side of unsupported ladders and down the other, then being picked up on the shoulders of a third man, who mounts a bicycle and rides off with them!

Sounds incredible, yet three men assisted by an attractive girl, known as The Auroras, do this, and many other astonishing feats of balancing and riding.

The Auroras, together with nine other wonderful hippodrome acts, will be seen at the Virginia State Fair, to be held in Richmond the week beginning October 3rd.

Among other features will be the celebrated Royal Scotch Highlanders Band which, with several noted instrumental and vocal soloists, will provide music before the grandstand each afternoon and evening.

Along the Midway will be held a merry, colorful carnival day and night, featuring the Rubin & Cherry Shows. This organization, recognized as the greatest of its kind on the road, will bring 25 mammoth shows and 10 riding devices. This is their first visit to the Virginia Fair and the finest Midway ever seen here is promised.

Railroads and bus lines will offer special reduced rates to Richmond during Fair Week.

At McGehee's you will find a complete line of Victor Victrolas ranging in price from $25.00 to $1,000. Liberal credit terms,

ROCKS NEWS

Everyone who attended the rally of the boys and girls 4-H Clubs throughout Appomattox County, had a wonderful time, I'm sure. Ever Ready Club of this neighborhood was represented there by the leader and 8 members of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Garrett, and children, spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Messrs. R. B. Hudgins, D. W. Dinkins, Sam Ranson, Frank Ranson, D. R. Inge and A. T. Anderson motored to Buckingham County last week and visited the wonderful farm of our splendid County Agent, Mr. Hudgins, and other places of interest. They report a fine trip.

The lawn party at Evergreen Saturday night was more of a success than some had hope for. Quite a nice sum was realized. It was for the benefit of the Baptist Parsonage at Evergreen.

Mr. Hubert Martin and Mr. Boothe, of Lynchburg, were visitors of friends of Mr. Martin last week-end.

Mrs. Mathews, of Lynchburg, Mrs. Alice Terrel, of Baltimore, Mrs. Nora Meadows,, and daughter, of Roanoke, visited Mrs. D. W. Dinkins recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Evans, and daughter, motored to Lynchburg Saturday on business.

Fair News

More children than ever before will have exhibits at the coming Appomattox County Fair, October 12 to 15, say fair officials.

The fair is the goal of all the boys and girls enrolled in club work in this locality. To these youngsters it climaxes the season's work Each day of the fair will be an achievement day.

The finals of many of the projects in which they are enrolled will be decided at the fair. In fact, the youngsters will be staging a "fair within a fair." Not only will they compete for prizes offered by the fair management, but for many special prizes.

All of the important club projects stressed by state club leaders will be staged at the fair. Among the contests listed are those for poultry, pig, fat pigs, dairy, soy beans and corn club work.

Many demonstrations will be carried on by the children showing just what they have learned under club instruction. The members not only are taught to give these demonstrations before the public, but they must keep complete records of costs and other data required under club rules.

The work of the children will be under direct supervision of club leaders. Daily programs are being mapped out for the juvenile exhibitors, and they will be taken on educational tours each day.

No phase of fair work has attracted so much attention in recent years as club work. Industrial leaders, school and college leaders, are all agreed that improved agricultural conditions will eventually result from club work.

Pig club work by boys and girls will be demonstrated to visitors at the Appomattox County Fair, Appomattox, October 12 to 15.

Pig club work, one of the most important projects encouraged by the fair and the state, has progressed by leaps and bounds the past few years. As a result, scores of boys and girls will compete in the preliminary contests leading up to the fair.

Often children first became interested in pib-club work in this territory, their only idea was to raise better pigs. But now they not only want to grow good pigs, but they are eager to show everyone how good these pigs are by exhibiting them at the Appomattox County Fair.

On almost any farm in this vicinity, where children are living, will be found one or more youngsters busily engaged in getting their animals ready for the fair. They are watching over their pigs as tenderly as a mother looking after her baby. Each animal is being given a balanced ration daily, is being exercised frequently, and is being trained to stand in the show ring. Many are keeping a record showing the cost of feed, and the gain the animal is making from week to week.

Several club projects will be featured at the fair, according to R. B. Hudgins, County Agent, in charge of the club work. These will include poultry, corn, fat pigs, pigs, soy beans, dairy calf club work.

HOME TOWN HENRY

ENTRY BOOKS NOW OPEN

The 23rd annual Lynchburg Fair will be held September 27, 28, 29, and 30th and every endeavor is being made this year by expenditure of more money and by greater effort to eclipse all former Fairs in clean entertainment.

One of the outstanding features of the fair will be the celebrated Troop E. 3rd U. S. Cavalry, Captain James M. Shelton. Their dazzing and thrilling work make it the crack mounted outfit of the United States Army. In riding they outclass the Cossacks, the Circus performers, and the Cowboys, making them without an equal in this or any other land. They will be in camp on the fair grounds all the week. There will be the usual strong program of free attractions, horse racing, fire works, band concerts, and a superb midway by West's World Wonder Shows.

Thousands of dollars are offered for premiums, and entries are now being taken at the Secretary's office, 1117 Church St., and if you have not a premium list write F. A. Lovelock, Sec'y, for one.
